Teaching methods

The course uses a student-centered educational model. Factual knowledge is obtained through literature studies and lectures and is applied through practical work. The practical work consists of workshops, case studies and project work in groups. The pedagogy is based on so-called "entrepreneurial learning" to create the conditions for creativity, reflection, and initiative.

Compulsory participation

Participation in seminars, workshops, and examinations is compulsory. The examiner assesses if, and how, absence from compulsory educational elements can be compensated for. Before the student has participated in the compulsory educational elements or compensated the absence in accordance with the examiner's instructions, the final course results will not be reported.

Absence from a compulsory educational component may mean that the student cannot compensate for the missed compulsory educational element until the next time the course is given.

Examination

The examination consists of:

- An individual written assignment (Fail/Pass /Pass with distinction)
- A written "home-examination" (Fail/Pass /Pass with distinction)
- A written group assignment (Fail/Pass)
- An oral presentation of the group assignment (Fail/Pass)

To get the grade "Pass" on the course, all examinations must get at least the grade Pass. To get the grade "Pass with distinction" on the entire course, the student needs to get the grade "Pass with distinction" on the individual assignment and the "home-examination" as well as the grade "Pass" on the other assignments.

If there are special reasons or need for adaptation for a student with a disability, the examiner may decide to depart from the syllabus's regulations on the form of examination, the number of examination opportunities, the possibility of supplementing or exemptions from compulsory educational elements, etc. Content and learning objectives, as well as the level of expected skills, knowledge and abilities, must not be altered, removed or lowered.

Limited number of examinations

Students who have not passed the regular examination are entitled to participate in five more examinations. If the student has not passed the exam after four participations he/she is encouraged to visit the study advisor. If the student has failed six examinations/tests, no additional examination or new admission is provided.

Participation in an examination is defined as an occasion on which a student attends an examination, even if the student submits a blank examination paper. If a student has registered to sit an examination but does not attend the examination, this is not defined as participation in the examination.
