FACT SHEET

Cessation of studies

Cessation of studies relates to ending studies permanently. Note that cessation of studies is not the same as interruption of studies. Interruption of studies is a temporary break in studies whereby you intend to recommence studies after the interruption of studies, and whereby the interruption of studies has been notified to the university.

Any student who intends to stop studying and who does not intend to recommence studies should notify the study counsellor for the programme using the form Notification of cessation. Notifying cessation of studies means that you surrender your place on the programme.
